Compassion in Action Webinar: The Power of Patient Perspectives

It's not too late to watch our latest Compassion in Action Webinar! Patient stories can inform health professional education and serve as a touchstone for practice. Finding out what matters to patients can improve the experience and delivery of care in everyday practice. Earlier this month, we were joined by Gregory Makoul, PhD, MS, an internationally recognized expert in physician-patient communication and shared decision making, as well as a radical common sense, person-centered approach to healthcare innovation. During the webinar, Dr. Makoul, along with Schwartz Center CMO Beth Lown, MD, discussed the many ways in which patient stories can inform health professional education and serve as a touchstone for practice.

Know a Compassionate Caregiver?

Do you know a professional caregiver or team that displays extraordinary devotion and compassion in caring for patients and families? Nominate them for the National Compassionate Caregiver of the Year® \(NCCY\) Award. The NCCY Award is the leading national recognition program that elevates excellence in compassionate healthcare. The award is designed to be much more than recognition for the individual honorees; the goal is to showcase best practices in compassionate care and elevate compassion to a core value of our healthcare system. Consider nominating an individual caregiver or team today and celebrate their commitment to compassion!
