Speaker and Host Announced for the Annual Dinner

This year's keynote speaker is Leana S. Wen, MD, MSc, FAAEM, an emergency physician, visiting professor of health policy and management at George Washington University, a contributing columnist for The Washington Post, and author of "Lifelines: A Doctor's Journey in the Fight for Public Health."

Our program host is Mallika Marshall, MD, an Emmy-award winning journalist and physician who serves as the regular Health Reporter at WBZ-TV in Boston. A practicing physician, she serves on the staff at Harvard Medical School and practices at the Massachusetts General Hospital's (MGH) Chelsea Urgent Care Clinic and MGH Revere Health Center.

New Conference Panel Announced! Social Drivers of Health: Metrics, Measures, and Meaningful Opportunities for Intervention

Moderator

Gary Price, MD, MBA
President, The Physicians
Foundation

More than 70 percent of health outcomes are tied to social and environmental conditions and the behaviors influenced by them. These issues influence health far more than the healthcare offered in hospitals and clinics. The research is clear, yet progress in integrating care and measures that reflect these key issues has lagged behind the critical need to address them. On Sept. 8, 2021 at 1:00 pm ET join this panel of policy experts, foundation leaders and physicians on the front lines of care who will discuss opportunities for interventions to address the upstream drivers of health.
