

Support Healthcare Workers Today

Subscribe to our email list.

Thanks to donors like you, we've been able to address the urgent needs of hundreds of thousands of healthcare workers. By making a gift, you can help provide programs and crucial resources to support the mental health and well-being of all caregivers so that they can provide compassionate patient care.

“When we get true answers, and deeper responses, we can help that caregiver, and direct them to the resources they need – before they have reached a breaking point. I’ve seen this work time and time again in my own organization, thanks to the Schwartz Center... This is what your support makes possible.” - Dr. Peter DeBlieux, University Medical Center New Orleans

Our work has never been more important, and the impact of your support has never been more meaningful. Will you help us reach even more healthcare workers in the coming year?

Compassion in Action Webinar: Portraits of Compassion

Don't miss the recording of our special celebration of the 2022 National Compassionate Caregivers of the Year (NCCY) Award recipients. This year marks the 23rd anniversary of this distinguished award, a national recognition program that celebrates healthcare professionals who exemplify extraordinary compassion in caring for patients and families.
